Client Feedback

"Thanks to you and the team for a great afternoon!"

"It was so good to get our delegates out of the meeting room and see where we were staying for once and what a fun way of doing it!"

Challenge Overview

This is an exciting challenge to get delegates out and about away from the conference room.

Team Quest is about having fun, being creative and using combined team resources to solve clues, work out co-ordinates and gather information. It is exciting, deliberately competitive and can be set up in town or countryside!

On arrival delegates will be issued with their Quest packs which will contain an assortment of equipment required for completion of the Quest.

From here, a series of clues, tasks and riddles will take the teams on a trail throughout the surrounding area.

Teams will have to complete a variety of tasks, solving clues, puzzles and riddles along the way. Team Quest ends at a pre-determined location (hotel/pub/restaurant) where completed Quest packs are submitted for marking.

Here teams swap stories of their antics over a drink before we share the highlights and announce the winners.
